

Lyceum
2008
(9th Annual)

Sound Thinking: The Life & Health
of Puget Sound

April 1st
speaker, John Lombard, author of
*Saving Puget Sound: A Conservation
Strategy for the 21st Century.*

ISLAND COUNTY
MARINE RESOURCES
COMMITTEE

WHIDBEY WATERSHED STEWARDS

Lyceum 2008 is a series of public lectures that focus on Puget Sound: how it works, what its current state is, and what the future holds in store. This series is co-sponsored by the Whidbey Institute at Chinook, WSU Island County Extension, Whidbey Audubon Society, Island County Marine Resources Committee, and Whidbey Watershed Stewards.

APRIL | Puget Sound and Our Place in It
1 | John Lombard, Analyst, Steward & Associates;
Oceanography and Program on Environment, UW

APRIL | *Pollution in the Sound:
Truths & Consequences*
8 | Nat Scholz, Environmental Conservation
Division, NOAA

APRIL | *Energy from the Sound:
Harnessing Tidal Power*
15 | Mitsuhiro Kawase, School of Oceanography, UW

APRIL | Protecting the Sound's Birds & Mammals
22 | Kevin Ryan, Washington Maritime
National Wildlife Refuge Complex

APRIL | Saving the Sound, One Step at a Time
29 | Sarah Schmidt, Co-author: Getting to the Water's Edge

MAY | The Partnership in Our Future
6 | (TBA), representative of the Puget Sound Partnership

6 Tuesday evenings, April 1–May 6, 2008
Front Room, Bayview Cash Store, Whidbey Island
7:30–9:00 p.m.
$6 per lecture, $30 for series
Information: (360) 341-1884

